

Bloomberg provides real-time data coverage of securities listed on A2X

At A2X we understand that as a broker you strive to achieve best execution for your clients when trading. By looking across markets you are able to find the best share price at any point in time.

Full visibility of price and volume activity will empower you to achieve best execution when transacting in listed securities across A2X and the JSE.

How do you find A2X price data on Bloomberg?

The data can be located using the A2X exchange code "AJ". Users can access the data by typing in the security code followed by the exchange identifier and asset class.

For instance, the price of Afrimat shares can be accessed using AFT AJ Equity <GO>.

You DO NOT need to subscribe to Bloomberg to get real time data. There is NO COST to access this data from A2X.

The list of shares currently available for trade can be found on our website www.a2x.co.za.
